Play 9 this October at Barham Golf & Sports Club!

This October Barham Golf & Sports Club is hosting an open nine-hole golf event, as part of a national initiative to promote the shorter form of the game.

Participants teeing it up at Barham will have the exciting opportunity to play their way to a state final at Royal Melbourne GC and a national event during The Emirates Australian Open at The Australian GC.

The Play 9 event, to be held on Tuesday 24 October, is one of a series of 19 nine-hole qualifiers taking place across Victoria. The leading two men and women from each qualifier will advance to the Victorian Play 9 final at Royal Melbourne on 5 November.

Then, the opportunity to play at The Australian on Saturday afternoon during the Emirates Australian Open is up for grabs.

Four players, two men and two women, from the Victorian Play 9 final will earn a start at the national Play 9 event and an all-expenses paid experience in Sydney. The package including return flights to Sydney, two nights' accommodation, transfers, meals, a weekend tournament pass, player gift pack and tickets to the champion's cocktail party on Sunday.

With no handicap or age restrictions, all registered golfers are invited to enter the Play 9 qualifier at Barham Golf & Sports Club.

Nine-hole golf is fast, fun and fits into busy lives – whether it's early in the morning, after work, on weekends or even on holiday. Nine-hole cards can also now be submitted for handicap purposes, so it's also a great way to keep skills sharp and handicaps up-to-date.
